COUNCIL FAILS TO COMPLY

With Request of Retail Merchants' Association to Put Down Concrete Pavements in Centre Square. Committee Presents Matter.

The Borough Council at their meeting Tuesday night failed to take any action on the suggestion of the Retail Merchants' Association that the town put down concrete pavements in its portions of the sidewalks of Centre Square.

The matter was presented to Council by a committee from the Association, consisting of Messrs. Wm. Arch McClean, J. I. Mumper and E. P. Wisotzky. Mr. McClean was spokesman and pointed out the present condition of the borough's pavements, the improvements being made by property owners and the fact that it is time for the town to begin work looking towards its best appearance in 1913. He said that each corner would cost the town from $200 to $250. Mr. Butt objected to putting down new pavements where old ones are reasonably good and also objected to concrete, claiming that it would damage the trees. Mr. Kitzmiller thought the towns pavements were as good as the average. Mr. McClean had condemned them severely in his speech before Council. That ended the discussion and no action was taken.

Dr. H. W. McKnight and George E. Stock appeared before Council regarding grade which had been given for Dr. McKnight's new pavement. Both claimed it would injure their properties if they were compelled to adhere to it and that Dr. McKnight's pavement would be five inches below that of Mr. Stock and an inch lower than that of C. A. Blocher on the Square. Matter referred to the Highway Committee and Borough Surveyor.

John Alban, of North Washington street, asked Council for relief from steam coming from the hot water which empties from Electric Light Company plant into "The Tiber." Mr. Turner was present and claimed a former Council had ordered him to empty it there and that he felt it was up to the Council to provide another outlet. On motion of Mr. Butt it was decided that the Highway Committee be instructed to furnish sufficient 6 inch pipe to carry the water from the bridge on North Washington street to a point below the Stacker factory, the pipe to remain borough property. The motion was carried, the following members voting for it: Hamilton, Tawney, Butt, Beck and Armor. Messrs. Kitzmiller and Trostle voted in the negative. Messrs. Shealer and Foutz were absent.

Chief Wisotzky reported fires in the engine leaking and asked for immediate action. He also reported the fire plug at the corner of North Washington and Chambersburg streets out of repair. The Property Committee was instructed to secure a new plug for that corner.

Henry Kalbfleisch appeared before Council protesting against manner in which improvements to road in front of his property on North Washington street had been left.

Mr. Beck, of the Light Committee, reported that the lights under the new system would soon be working. He also suggested that a tungsten lamp be placed on West Middle street between Baltimore and Washington streets. This suggestion was put in the form of a motion and carried.

Mr. Beck reported that Thaddeus Warren would lay concrete pavement at his property on West Middle street if Borough would build concrete bridge over outlet of ice pond. No action taken.

It was decided that Mrs. Braunter be given 15 days in which to build pavement on Steinwehr avenue, the Borough to take work in charge if nothing is done at the end of that period.

Mr. Butt spoke of the accident of Edgar C. Tawney at the Stratton street crossing of the Western Maryland railroad and then made the following motion, which was carried: That proper legal steps be taken to indict the Western Maryland Railroad for maintaining a nuisance on Railroad street and at the crossings of the Railroad on Stratton, Carlisle, Washington, Bedford and Middle streets and Springs avenue, and that the Borough Attorney be directed to take the proper steps to have information laid.

On motion of Mr. Beck the Civic Club was given $10.00 for the sprinkler.

A letter from Burgess Holtsworth was read explaining his attitude towards franchise for Hanover trolley line and giving his reasons for signing the same.

It was decided that the slope of concrete pavements in the future be one fifth inch to the foot instead of two fifths as at present.

Council adjourned at eleven o'clock.

ONE THOUSAND AT FUNERAL

Immense Concourse of People at Funeral of Father Haltermeyer at Conewago Chapel. Forty Six Priests and Prelates.

On consecrated ground back of the Mission Cross erected in the old burial ground of the Sacred Heart Church, better known as Conewago Chapel, the mortal remains of the Rev. Eugene Haltermeyer, late rector of the church, were interred at 11.30 a. m. Tuesday morning. The place of interment had been designated by the priest before his death, and this wish was carried out.

A more solemn and impressive ceremony was never witnessed within the walls of the historic chapel than that which preceded the burial of the beloved Father Haltermeyer. The edifice was filled to overflowing, and together with those who could not gain admission, at least one thousand persons attended the ceremonies.

Prelates, priests of the diocese, visiting priests, forty six in number, were seated within the chancel rail and took part in the recital of the Divine Office, at 9.30 a. m.

Following this service, a High Mass of Requiem was observed, with Rev. Dr. M. M. Hasslett, of the Harrisburg Cathedral, as celebrant; Rev. J. G. McGovern, of Mt. St. Mary's, Emmitsburg, deacon; Rev. D. J. Carey, of Lewistown, sub-deacon, and Rev. J. J. Hallen and John L. Shields, Masters of Ceremonies.

The body of the dead priest, clad in vestments and mitre, with a chalice in hand, reposed in the casket before the chancel.

The sermon was preached by Rev. James A. Huber, rector of St. Joseph's Church, Hanover. When the speaker touched upon the strong tie which bound the dead priest to the people of the parish, there was not a dry eye among the concourse in the edifice. Even though Father Haltermeyer labored among them for only a few brief years, they had learned to love him both as man and confessor.

The abolition of the body was pronounced by Right Rev. John W. Shanahan, Bishop of the Harrisburg diocese, after which the members of the parish were permitted to take a last look at the familiar face of their pastor.

Headed by the priests and acolytes, the body, borne by twelve members of the Conewago Beneficial Society, was carried to its last resting place, followed by the entire congregation chanting psalms on the way to the open grave.

The body was consigned to the grave by Rev. Dr. Hasslett.

The remains of Fr. Haltermeyer, who died in the Medico-Chi hospital in Philadelphia Friday, Oct. 1st, following an operation for appendicitis, were brought to the rectory at Conewago on Saturday night. Preceding the funeral the body was conveyed to the church edifice Monday evening by Rev. Frs. Reudter and Howard, of McSherrystown; Huber and Loague, of Hanover; Mahony, of Midway and Shields, of Conewago, where it lay in state during the night under a guard from the Beneficial Society, until the hour of the funeral Tuesday morning.

TRAMP KILLED ON RAILROAD

Train Kills Drunken Tramp on Railroad between Littlestown and Hanover. Was Professional Hobo. No Relatives Known.

James Fisher, alias Corbett, a tramp aged about 55 years, was walking on the track of the Pennsylvania Railroad between the McSherrystown road and Plum creek, at 7.25 Monday evening, accompanied by two other tramps, when he was struck and instantly killed by the engine of the passenger train which leaves Hanover at 7.20 p. m. for Littlestown. The man's skull was crushed and his brains scattered along the track; his left leg was cut off above the ankle, and part of his right foot was also severed.

Dr. George L. Rice, of McSherrystown, who is also a Justice of the Peace, who viewed the body, decided that an inquest was unnecessary and that the railroad officials were blameless for the accident. It is said that Fisher as well as his companions were under the influence of liquor when the accident occurred.

The remains were removed to the morgue in Bair's undertaking establishment, Hanover, where burial preparations were made, and where the body was viewed by a number of persons, among whom was Thomas Johnson.

Mr. Johnson stated that he had known the man for many years as a race horse rider, whose home was on Long Island, N. Y.

The funeral of the unfortunate man, who has no known relatives was held Tuesday from Bair's undertaking establishment. Interment was made in Mt. Olivet cemetery, Hanover, Rev. A. M. Heilman officiating.

Train No. 682, which killed Fisher, was in charge of conductor Arthur D. Sell and engineman Charles Cline.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY

An attempt was made Tuesday morning about 2 o'clock to rob the general store of Dunmire & Embick, in Scotland, Franklin county. The thieves gained entrance to the store by means of boring a panel off the front door which set off a burglar alarm in the building. This attracted the attention of Roy Pentz, who was passing at the time. He called several neighbors who were heavily armed and going to the store found that the thieves had made their escape. The posse searched the entire village but no clues could be got.

Roy Pentz and about 20 other men, all heavily armed with shot guns and revolvers hunted in vain for the robbers for several hours.

In the meantime, about 2 a. m., Alexander Johnson, who lives a mile and a half from Scotland, was awakened by somebody in his house. He went down stairs and going to the front door saw two men at his cellar door. They aimed guns at him and ordered him to go back into the house, which he quickly did but not before one of the fellows shot at him but missed the mark. The two robbers then ran before any help came.

DEER AFTER CABBAGE HEADS

Deer are becoming so plentiful in the mountains near the Mont Alto sanatorium that droves of them are daily seen grazing on the old corn fields near that place. THE MAKING OVER OF A SPOILED MAN.

By MARY P. WINSTON.

(Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.)

A boy from seven to twelve tied to a nurse's apron string is always an object of pity to me. I have seen one of these boys looking wistfully at a group of romping children, longing to join in their play, but deterred by the woman who had him in charge. They, dressed in corduroy or gingham, are without fear of soiling their clothes; he, rigged out in a white "wash" suit, knows that one speck of dirt on it will bring down the anathemas of the she dragon hired to keep him clean.

Tommy Burch and I would have been friends in our childhood had we been permitted. But Tommy was always immaculately dressed, and a middle aged lady tutor-nurse had him in charge to elevate his mind. I was always dirty, and my mother seldom put good clothes on me, for she knew I would tear them to tatters climbing trees. If Tommy had had a common nurse he might have occasionally got away from her, but with his governess it was another matter. He was never permitted to be out of her sight for a moment.

The worst of it was that Tom was not born a milksop. He became one because he couldn't help himself. When he had got rid of his governess he begged me to take him gunning and fishing and all that. A love of such sports was born in him, but he had been so delicately reared that he was unable to stand the hardships they involved and couldn't keep pace with me in anything. Nevertheless I was fond of him, and we became quite chummy. So after a first effort at tramping all day through a wood and eating bacon and hardtack for supper he gave it up and devoted himself to drawing pictures, for which he had considerable talent. If he had had the luck to have been thrown on his own resources he might have made an artist of himself.

My cousin, Frances Rose, having become the object of Burch's adoration, he confided the secret to me and asked me to sound her as to whether there was any chance for him. I suggested to her one day that she and Tom would make a good match.

"I make a match with that ladylike young man?" she exclaimed disdainfully. "Not much!"

"He might at least teach you to speak good English," I retorted. Then I told her of the way Tom had been brought up and the dragon and all that. She listened attentively and from contempt, with a woman's sudden change of front, veered right round to sympathy. So when I proposed that she help me to try to rectify the damage done she fell in with the plan. We were to coach Tom in athletic games and many amusements, giving him sundry hard raps, such as he should have had years before. All I let him know about it was that Frank admired manly men and he'd better go in for athletics. He was a trifle old to begin, but I promised to help him.

I commenced with boxing gloves and after a few lessons hammered him so unmercifully that I feared I had killed him. When he came round I told him I'd turn him over to Frank for a new beginning, which she, a girl, would be better fitted to make than I, a right tackle football man.

Frank took him up, and I could plainly see she developed a deep interest in the work. I have seen her keep him on the tennis court, playing first set, then a double set, losing just enough games to necessitate a "play-off," the sweat running down his cheeks, his neck and trickling down his back, while he panted like a horse with the heaves.

A crisis came at last. It was in cross country horseback riding. Frank could ride like a centaur. She disdained to strain a horse by sitting sideways. She rode straddle with divided skirts. She made Tom get out of bed before daylight to ride with her, increasing the length of their canter. All on one occasion she kept the poor oeggar out without a morsel of food from 5 o'clock till noon. During this time he was obliged to jump his horse, she leading the way over fences, ditches and logs. He had been born with no craven spirit and would have gone to his death rather than give in to her. This led her to push him to see how far he would go, till one day she went over a log so large that she barely missed it. Tom, who was not so expert a horseman, raised his beast too soon, and the animal, coming down with his belly flat on the log, rolled over on his rider.

I was sent for to go to Tom's house and found Frank there in the hall looking like a ghost, while the doctor was making up his mind whether there was any chance for the milksop she had been trying to make a man of. Tom hovered between life and death for a month, then gradually came around. The first thing he did after getting out was to come to me and tell me of his engagement to my cousin. I wasn't surprised, for he had shown that had he been suffered to make a man of himself in the first place he would have done so. What the dragon had spoiled a splendid girl made over successfully.

When I spoke to Frank about her engagement I said, "I thought you couldn't marry a ladylike young man." "Shut up!" she cried sharply. "He's as manly as you. He followed me everywhere I led, even at the risk of his neck."

I smiled, but made no reply.

Our Extravagance.

Discussing England and the English from an American point of view, a recent American writer in England observes:

"Nobody, from the king down, is either ashamed or afraid to be economical. In England a man or a woman is thought to be a fool or a vulgarian who is not careful of expenditure, while in America our waiters have been clever enough to make it appear that economy is mean, and as a nation we suffer accordingly. We are fools to be fooled in this manner."

HEARD ENOUGH.

Algy Changed the Playful Greeting Intended For Miss Edythe.

Algy was calling on his best girl, Miss Edythe St. Claire. Miss Edythe was not in, but her mother was, and Algy was cordially invited to wait. Suddenly light footsteps were heard in the hall, and Algy, being of a playful disposition, said gleefully:

"I'll just stoop down behind the big easy chair, and when Miss Edythe comes in I will appear suddenly and surprise her."

"Yes, do," said Edythe's mother. "It will be such a good joke."

But something had occurred to disturb Edythe's self poise. She was out of sorts when she came in. "Any one here while I was out?" she inquired.

"Why do you ask?" questioned her smiling mamma.

"Because that insufferably tiresome Algy Vervain!"

"My dear! My dear!"

"—said he was going to come poking up!"

"Edythe! Edythe!"

"And I am so glad he didn't, for I!"

"Edythe, my daughter!"

"—abominate the sight of him. He's so stupid and conceited, and—"

"Edythe, I beg of you!"

"Now, mamma, you have said so yourself many and many a time, and—"

"Oh, Edythe, I'm sure!"

"Why, indeed you have, mamma! You said the other day that he reminded you of that organ grinder's monkey, and—"

"Edythe!"

"I think so too!"

"Edythe St. Claire, will you keep still?"

Edythe's girlish shriek arose as Algy did, and instead of the playful "Boo!" he intended to utter nothing remained but to say, as stiffly as possible, "I bid you good night, Miss St. Claire," and to depart and return no more.

Too Much Efficiency.

"An American tourist," said an automobilist, "went to Germany in his car to see the army maneuvers. He was impressed with what he saw and especially with the brigade of motor ambulances, motor baggage wagons, and so forth. As the tourist watched the maneuvers from a seat under a tree the axle of a motor ambulance broke. Instantly the men leaped out, ran into the village, returned in a jiffy with a new axle, fixed it in place with wonderful mechanical skill and rushed off again as good as new."

"There's efficiency," said the American tourist. "There's German efficiency for you. No matter what breaks, there's a stock at hand to supply the needed part from. These Germans!"

"And, praising the remarkable example of German efficiency he had just witnessed, the tourist returned to the village and ordered up his car to find he couldn't use it, as an axle was missing."

The Spirit of Nature.

That spirit which suffices quiet hearts, which seems to come forth to such from every dry knoll of sear grass, from every pine stump and half imbedded stone, on which the dull March sun shines, comes forth to the poor and hungry and to such as are of simple taste. If thou fill thy brain with Boston and New York, with fashion and covetousness, and wilt stimulate thy jaded senses with wine and French coffee, thou shalt find no radiance of wisdom in the lonely waste of the pine woods.—Emerson.

A Real Joy Ride.

A gilded young Philadelphian, with a boon companion who had been his guest, drove tandem in a very high cart from the Country club home to Chestnut Hill on a very dark night after a very elaborate dinner. The pace was terrific. The horses were invisible in the black gloom, but their hoof beats made a sound like thunder. The cart bounced, jolted, ran on one wheel, and then the friend held

"EASY, JIM—EASY ROUND THE CORNER!" on very tight, reflecting with horror on the great height of the fashionable vehicle.

At last the brilliantly lighted facade of a mansion appeared, and like the wind the cart rushed through a lofty gateway. But as it made the turn it leaned over—over.

"Easy, Jim—easy round the corner, old chap!" gasped the guest.

HORSES SHOWN AT FAIRS.

Good Judgment Required on the Part of Managers.

An authority says: The showing of horses at state and county fairs, live stock exhibitions and other such events has proved to be of immense value in stimulating horse breeding. The great value of horse shows should be recognized by all, and the fullest support should be given their projects.

The first and greatest work has been the creating of a standard, and it is absolutely necessary to keep up the high marks that have been set and not permit the awarding of money for horses of no particular merit. This is a mistake that has been made at some fairs where the management was under the influence of people that desired to throw the doors wide open to the admission of all kinds of animals. Whenever this is done the value of the horse show is neutralized, as it has no reason for existence except to raise the quality of horses being bred.

To award a premium to a scrub stallion is to recommend him as a sire, with the further effect of stimulating the breed of scrubs rather than of horses of high quality.

The qualities that enter into the makeup of the winning horse are stamina, vitality, correctness of form, symmetry, weight, beauty, speed, firmness of bone, abundance of muscular tissues, intelligence and action. These are definite qualities, and it is desirable that all horses bred in this country have them.

All men that expect to show their horses at fairs are continually breeding to get into them the above good qualities and as many other good qualities as can be thought of. It is easy to see, then, that the masses of our horse breeders have come under the spell of the stock shows. With the acceptance of the qualities as requisites in horses by the foremost breeders of the country it is not strange that the other breeders have accepted the same standards and are following them to some extent.

The showing of horses will continue to be popular, and the popularity will increase with the improvement in quality, because it is easier to become enthusiastic over a fine horse than over a horse of very ordinary qualities. The higher the general qualities of the horses shown the more numerous will be the entries, both because there will be more horses than can possibly win prizes and also because there will be a more widespread application of the wisdom of a community breeding all good horses rather than a few good horses and many poor ones.

Care of Driving Animal.

The good road horse needs good care. When he comes in tired, wet and dirty rub him down and blanket, and use bandages on his legs. Then after he has cooled off give him a vigorous brushing and put him up for the night.

THE DAIRYMAN

It is not the way cream is separated from milk, but the way it is handled after being separated which determines the quality of butter it will make. If kept until it ferments it will make poor butter.

Use Modern Methods.

Does every cow in your herd return you a profit? You cannot know unless you have tested the milk and keep a record of the yield. Use the best modern method and be assured of results.

Loss of Buttermilk Curd.

Loss of curd from buttermilk can be saved by straining through a very fine meshed cheesecloth or by adding a small quantity, about one-fourth sweet skim milk to three-fourths buttermilk. Let the mixture stand overnight at a temperature of about 60 degrees. Then heat the next morning to about 120 degrees and let stand one hour.

Dairyman Must Know His Cows.

The successful dairyman must be a student of the task before him. He must know his cows, know how to care for them, know how to handle their product and know how to breed for better stock. This, of course, he cannot do unless he has the pure bred bull to breed from. This is one of the prime requisites of the profitable dairy farm.

Main Points in Dairy Cow.

In judging the qualities of a cow as to whether she will prove profitable first look at the head. It should be comparatively small, clean cut in outline and thin. The neck should be small and tapering and quite narrow immediately back of the head. Her eye should be clear and prominent. This indicates nerve force and energy. The body of the cow should be slightly wedge shaped, with good, ample heart girth. The udder is the third point of great importance. It should be well developed, not fleshy, and well veined. These are the main points in the dairy cow, but they do not guarantee a good milker by any means, though it is always well to consider them.

Cats in the Navy.

The ships of the navy carry more dogs than cats because the dog is a better sailor and more easily trained, but a good many grimalkins go to sea under the stars and stripes. The discipline of the service is not relaxed in their favor, and when they become overfed and lazy they are put ashore to shift for themselves. A cat does not stand rough weather so well as a dog or a monkey, and one battleship that started on the voyage round the world with ten cats returned with only one, all the rest having died on the way.

Sore Throat Wisdom

If every mother could realize the danger that lurks behind every case of sore throat, she wouldn't rest until she has effected a cure every time a child has it.

Your family physician will verify the statement that it is a positive fact that every child with sore throat is in immediate danger of contracting Croup, Quinsy, Tonsillitis or Diphtheria, and is not removed from that danger until the throat is cured. Think of it!

Liniments or outward application of medicines do not and cannot cure the ailment, though they may offer temporary relief. Neither can you cure sore throat with a cough syrup or a cold cure.

To cure, you must get at the seat of the disease, removing the cause. Nothing does that so quickly, safely and surely as TONSILINE. A single dose of TONSILINE taken upon the first appearance of sore throat may save long weeks of sickness, great expense, worry, even death.

Use a little sore throat wisdom and buy a bottle of TONSILINE today. You may need it tomorrow.

TONSILINE is the standard sore throat remedy—best known and most effective and most used. Look for the long necked fellow on the 25 or 50 cent sized bottle when you go to the drug store to get it. The Tonsiline Co., Canton, Ohio.

Be sure you buy the steam bread at Yehe's bakery.

Is Your Shovel Worn Out?

The price of a new shovel is a small matter. But are you going on forever shoveling into a furnace twice as much coal as is really needed to heat your house—and then shoveling out twice as many ashes? Ashes are expensive, because coal is expensive. You can't afford to let one shovelful of coal get away without getting its full content of heat out of it, and into the air of your house. You can do this easily, safely and surely with the

MODEL Heating System

It thoroughly consumes every pound of coal, leaving nothing but fine white ashes. By a scientific plan of circulation, it gets the heat from the fire and distributes it, through steam or hot water radiators, with remarkable efficiency. As a result it will keep the whole house comfortable day and night, in all weather, and save one-third to one-half of the coal ordinarily consumed. It is doing this now in thousands of homes. Look into it at once.

THE LEDOM RANGE

The Ledom is as good a kitchen range as the Model is a heating system—which is saying a great deal. Its grate alone saves half of the usual coal consumption, and makes it the ablest, quickest, most convenient range ever built. Don't fail to see it.

Scientifically Pasteurized Milk

An un-pasteurized milk is of DOUBTFUL purity, to say the least.

It costs money to properly pasteurize milk. Some dealers don't want to spend that money for their customers' protection.

The Gettysburg Ice & Storage Dairy spends it cheerfully—in its OWN interest and in YOURS.

Pasteurizing milk does not alter its quality—does not influence its richness—does not lessen its food value and digestibility.

Pasteurizing milk simply INSURES ITS PURITY. All milk is daily inspected upon arrival at the distributing plant and must be up to the Gettysburg Ice and Storage Company standard of richness, cleanness and perfect chemical constituents.

It is passed through a scientific pasteurizer (we have the most perfect pasteurizer outside of Philadelphia) and then bottled direct from the pasteurizing tank and capped—making it germ proof upon delivery to the customer.

Gettysburg Ice and Storage Milk is sold only in bottles and every bottle is twice scoured, jetted with boiling water four times and steamed by a specially constructed apparatus before filling.

Gettysburg Ice and Storage Milk sells for 6c. a quart. Buying it means health protection for family and yourself.

BANKER MUST SERVE TERM

John R. Walsh, Wrecker of Chicago Institution, Loses Appeal.

Chicago, Oct. 5.—John R. Walsh, convicted of misapplication of the funds of the Chicago National bank, must serve the sentence of five years' imprisonment imposed upon him by the trial jury, save in the event that the supreme court upsets the affirmation of the verdict of guilty handed down by the United States circuit court of appeals here.

Counsel for Mr. Walsh, in their appeal, laid the greatest stress on what they alleged was a lack of criminal intent on the part of the defendant. In the lengthy brief which they filed much law was quoted to show that the convicted banker, newspaper publisher and railroad owner used the funds of the bank in what he considered a legitimate manner.

Counsel for Walsh have thirty days in which to file application for a rehearing by the court of appeals. Meanwhile Walsh will be at liberty under his present bonds of $50,000.

BEAR FIGHTS FARMERS

Was Killed in Swamp After Running Battle of Mile.

Port Jervis, N. Y., Oct. 6.—In a desperate encounter a big bear was killed at McKane farm, back of Shonola, Pike county, Pa., by George and Cleveland McKane, father and son. The bear was eating apples in the orchard. The elder McKane put a bullet in the bear's neck, and then a running fight was kept up for a mile to a swamp. In the swamp the bear charged the elder McKane, disarmed him and tore a sleeve from his coat. Young McKane fired a bullet into the bear's brain, killing it. The carcass weighed 400 pounds. It measured six feet.

AT LEAST 30 DEAD IN MINE EXPLOSION

Sixty Men Entombed in British Columbia Colliery.

Nanaimo, B. C., Oct. 6.—Thirty lives are known to have been lost in an explosion that entombed sixty men in the extension mine of the Wellington Colliery company here.

Twenty-five of the imprisoned men were rescued, but the rapidly spreading fire prevented the rescuers from completing their work. Eight bodies were recovered and the workers are making every effort to force further entrance into the two levels affected by the explosion in an effort to save any who may be living and to recover the bodies of the dead before they are consumed.

The fire is constantly gaining headway, and while it continues there is little hope of the rescuers being able to reach the imprisoned men.

DELUDED MAN SWIMS RIVER

Tries to Escape Fancied Pursuit in the Susquehanna.

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 6.—Deluded into the belief that he was being followed by murderous-looking negroes, Patrick J. Drain, of Houtsdale, Pa., a national organizer of the United Mine Workers of America, who was on his way to the anthracite coal mines, waded and swam the Susquehanna river twice.

Drain had been stopping at the St. James hotel, and he lowered himself from his bedroom on the upper floor with a rope made of bedclothes. Running to the river, he crossed diagonally and landed at West Fairview, over a mile from his starting point.

Still believing that he was being pursued, he turned back and returned to Harrisburg. His behavior attracted the attention of some early risers at West Fairview, who notified the police, who found Drain in an exhausted condition and took him to jail to await the arrival of friends.

SHE IS SICK OF MATRIMONY

Woman With Six Husbands Pleads Guilty to Bigamy Charge.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 6.—Grace E. Chapman pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy in Justice Miller's court at her preliminary trial here, admitting she had married six men without having obtained a divorce from any of them.

"Yes, I'm guilty," she testified. "I've had six husbands and I'm sick of matrimony. Most of the men I married were farmers. I would live with them until I got tired of them and then I'd leave. They were so tiresome."

"Were you ever divorced?" "Not that I know of," Mrs. Chapman replied.

Mrs. Chapman was unable to furnish a bond of $2000 and was remanded to jail.

A GREAT BLAZE

Of Conviction Sweeping Over Gettysburg.

The more people know of the new remedy, Root Juice, the more convinced are they of the wonderful merits of the discovery. Scores of people have bought it at People's drug store, and after using it a short while they are so loud in praise of it that their neighbors are going to the store in such crowds for the medicine it is hard to keep it in stock. Testimonials are being piled upon testimonials from every direction and many are buying the juice because it is doing so much good for some neighbor or relative. Root Juice has certainly created a great sensation over in Indiana, Pa. Mr. John Spratt said: "I have suffered a long time with a very painful kidney and bladder trouble, had to get up every fifteen or twenty minutes during the night. I would sometimes so suffer with my back and kidneys that I would have to walk the floor for hours at a time. I began taking Root Juice when it was first introduced here, and after taking it a short time I wish to say for the benefit of my friends and others who suffer as I did, that I am now free from all pain and rest well at night. I am rapidly regaining strength and am much improved in every way." Mr. Oscar Green, of the same point, R. R. No. 3, said: "Before taking Root Juice I had very bad stomach trouble of long standing. After eating a meal I felt like I had knots or rocks in the pit of my stomach. I bloated very much and had a burning in my stomach that pained me very much and caused me to be very nervous, but the first dose of Root Juice I took soothed my stomach and caused me to feel better and after taking the great medicine a short while I can eat anything without suffering for it." We are told that the people at the drug store are glad to give any information within their power in relation to the remedy. The Juice is now on sale for $1 a bottle or three bottles for $2.50.
